BACK DOOR TO LONGACRE CLUB

DETECTIVES HEAR OF AN UNDER-GROUND RAILROAD.

In the Guise of the Navarre's House Deteetive Capt. O'Brien Over the Phone Arranges With the Astor House Detective for Tickets-Neumann Pinched.

Michael Neumann, manager of the Longacre Athletic Club in West Twenty-ninth street, who was arrested two weeks ago on a warrant secured by Capt. Stephen O'Brien of the Tenderloin station charging him with being about to instigate a sparring exhibition and was discharged by Magistrate Breen in the Tombs court, was arrested again yesterday on a warrant secured from Magistrate Breen by Assistant District Attorney Murphy at the request of Deputy Police Commissioner Mathot, Inspector Druhan and Capt. O'Brien, alleging that Neumann did encourage, aid and instigate a sparring exhibition pulled off at the clubhouse last Thursday night. Neumann heard that the warrant was out early in the afternoon and hurried to the District Attorney's office and gave him-reduced to $500.

When Neumann was arraigned before Magistrate Breen in the Tombs court his counsel asked for n adjournment until Thursday and wanted Neumann paroled until this morning to give bail. Assistant District Attorney Murphy wouldn't consent to it, and requested that bail be set at $1,000. Neumann's counsel finally got it reduced to $500.

The police say they have the strongest kind of evidence against Neumann this time, and how they got it was being told around the Tenderloin last night. Capt. O'Brien recently learned, it was said, that Douglas Sanderson, house detective at the Astor House, could get "membership tickets" for the Longacre Club bouts, and that a friend of his, House Detective Maxwell of the Hotel Navarre, was in the habit of sending his friends to procure tickets through Sanderson, after he had telephoned that he was sending some one.

On August 2, the police say, Capt. O'Brien called up Sanderson, and this conversation follows:

followe i:

"Hell?; Sandy; this is Max."

"All right, Max; what can I do for you?"

"I'm sending down a couple of friends of mine; fix them up, will you?"

"Yes, send them along."

Policemen Cuff and I luncan of the West

Policemen Cuff and Funcan of the West Thirtieth street station swore that they went to Sanderson on the strength of this telephone message and that he gave them a note to Neumann. On the strength of the note Duncan went to Neumann and got two tickets for last Thursday night's bout, for which he paid $2. Foth declared that nothing was said about their becoming members of the club. They said they witnessed six three round bouts.

103 YEARS OLD.

Ambition and a Regular Outdoor Life the Secret, Says Mrs. Doremus.

MONTCLAIR, N. J., Aug. 13 .- To-day Mrs. Sarah Hall Doremus of Parsippany is 103 years old, and since early morning her children and other relatives have been coming from Newark, East Orange and other neighboring towns to the old home-stead to help her celebrate the event. There has been little change in the appearance of "Aunt Sally," as she is known to the townspeople, since she passed her one hundredth year. She is in full possession of her faculyear. She is in full possession of her faculties and her sight only is slightly impaired. She is the widow of John Doremus, who died many years ago. She did all the work in the old homestead until a few years ago and besides spun the flax for the material that was made into garments for the family. She is a descendent of the Hall family, who came over from England. "Ambition combined with a regular outdoor life," she says, is the secret of good health and old age. She has two children, Abram Doremus of Parsippany, and Mrs. John Broadwell of Newark, besides eight grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

MR. ECKERT'S TENT BURNED. Interruption of His Summer Enjoyment

WEST ORANGE, N. J.; Aug. 13.-Little Helen Gould Eckert, the infant daughter of Street Commissioner Frank G. Eckert of West Orange, narrowly escaped death in a fire which destroyed her father's summer camp away back in the Orange Mountains last night. Mr. Eckert and his family have been spending the summer in a tent. An been spending the summer in a tent. An oil stove exploded and set fire to the tent. The child was sleeping in its carriage, ever which was spread a mosquito net. This net was afire when Eckert pulled the carriage out, burning himself in doing so. Mr. and Mrs. Eckert were not in the tent at the time, and Mr. Eckert s waistcoat, which was hanging on a peg inside and which contained considerable money, was burned with the money. The child was only slightly burned. The tent and its contents were destroyed.

NEW BANK THEFT CHARGES.

Pittsburg Bookkeeper and Teller Now Held Under $180,000 and $160,000 Bail.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 13 .- That the thefts of G. S. Hixton, individual bookkeeper, and Clifford B. Wray, teller for the Union Trust Company were far more than $125,000, which amount the bank admits was stolen was indicated this afternoon when H. W. Gleffer, treasurer of the Union Trust Company, swore out six additional informations against Hixton, charging embezzlement and six others charging conspiracy to defraud. Six informations charging conspiracy to defraud were also made against Wray and one additional information charging embezzlement.

The bond was originally $20,000, but this afternoon the bail of Hixton was increased to $180,000 and that of Wray to $180,000.

The prisoner smiled when told of the new bail and said they guessed they would stay in jail. was indicated this afternoon when H. W.

ROBBED OF $3,000 IN A BANK

Weman Depositor's Satchel Stolen by Sneak as She Stood in Line. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13 .- Mrs. B. Lampert was robbed to-day in the San Francisco Savings Union Bank of $3,000 in gold which she had in a satchel.

While standing in line at the receiving while standing in line at the receiving teller's window the satchel grew heavy and she placed it on the floor at her feet.

Just as she reached the window a man addressed her, asking if she was not Mrs. Smith. After she had replied she turned to the window, stated her business, then reached for the satchel, which she discovered was gone. No trace could be found of the thief, who had walked out past a policeman at the door.

Direworks at Lincoln When Bryan Arrives. LINCOLN, Neb.; Aug. 13.-The homecoming reception to William J. Bryan will be presided over by Mayor Brown. Prayer will be offered by the Rev. Mr. Martin, paster of the church attended by Mr. Bryan and his family. The welcoming address will be delivered by Gov. Mickey and will be responded to by Mr. Bryan, after which the reception in the lower corridor of the capitol will take place. The exercise will conclude with fireworks.

Ball Park for Bryan Reception. CINCINNATI, Aug. 18.-When William Sernings Bryan comes to Cincinnati National League Ball Park will be the scene National Lengue Bail Park will be the scene of the reception. It is declared that this is the only place in the city big enough to hold the crowds that will want to greet Bryan. The park now accommodates 15,000, and the reception committee will erect extra stands, so that more than 25,000 may be seated. PECORA SUSPECTS LET GO.

Cor oner Convinced That They Have No Knowledge of the Murder of the Woman. After an all day investigation vesterday into the strangling of Maria Pecofa at 521/2 Carmine street on last Friday, Coroner Acritelli and Assistant District Attorney Manley did not change the opinion formed Sun-day that the Sicilian whose first name is Beppino knows more about the murde than any one else. For that reason all the Italian detectives in Manhattan were scouring the town last night trying to find a man of small stature who has black hair with one curl, and wears patent leather shoes with white tops, a big diamond ring and a diamond horseshoe pin. The authorities haven't learned his last name yet

Mrs. Russo, the janitress; Mrs. Gina Merlo, a neighbor of Mrs. Pecora, and Gervaso Rencaro and Luigi Rinaldi, two friends of the dead woman who were first accused of knowing something about friends of the dead woman who were first accused of knowing something about her death, were questioned yesterday, but only repeated the statements made on Sunday after Coroner Acritelli had first heard about Beppino, the Sicilian. The stories of the men were so convincing that the Coroner ordered their release from the House of Detention, where they had been held as witnesses. The inquiry closed before Angelo Mazzocca, another friend of the woman, could testify, so he was held, to be questioned this morning.

The Coroner thought he had track of Beppino yesterday, and sent a detective out to arrest him. When the man was brought before the witnesses he admitted that his name was Beppino and that he was a Sicilian, but all the witnesses declared that he wasn't the right one. Coroner Acritelli apologized to him and let him go.

While the witnesses were talking about the stabbing of a man by Beppino on Ash Wednesday last at Sullivan and Bleecker streets, Coroner Schrady, who was present, remembered that he had the case of an Italian named John Reggio of 107 Macdougal street, who was stabbed at that corner on April 15. An Italian named Vito Caparoti of 157 Mott street, who was found hiding in a dumb waiter shaft and covered with blood stains, was arrested and identified by Reggio as his assailant, but he got off because Reggio wouldn't prosecute him. This stabbing affair is the only one the police have any record of as occurring in that neighborhood in the last few months and the detectives of the Charles street station were looking it up last night to see whether it had anything to do with Beppino.

TUGBOAT STRIKE FIZZLES. Many Men Return to Work and the Places of Others Are Filled. The strike of the tugboat hands shrunk still further yesterday. It was said at the office of the Lehigh Valley company that to the firemen had been granted the advance of $5 a month demanded and that they were at work. The demand of the oilers for an advance of $10 was refused and they remained on strike. Most of their places have been filled.

On behalf of the Jersey Central company it was said that only a few of its tugboat hands struck and their places were promptly hands struck and their places were promptly filled. A representative of the Baltimore and Ohio company said:

"We told our men that we could not consider their demands until they came back to work. Most of them returned to work under these conditions, but without any pledge from us that the demands will be granted. The demands, however, will be considered."

Marine Manager Pollack of the New York Central company said that the trouble with his men was a misapprehension as to the time when a $5 month advance which the company had promised some time ago the time when a $5 month advance which the company had promised some time ago would go into effect. That matter had been settled and the trouble was over.

Organizers of the International Seamen's Union will try to form a union of tugboat deckhands this week.

MAN WHO SHOT LEFTY BOYLE After Boyle Had Told Stories of Police Partnership With Thieves.

A man who said he was Alexander Devoe, a driver, of 340 West Thirty-fifth street was locked up at Police Headquarters last night on the charge of having in June last shot Lefty Boyle, a crook who told things about tective Sergeant John J. Fogarty, who took him to the New York Hospital, where Boyle has been since the shooting, partly paralyzed. Fogarty says that Boyle identified Devoe as the man who had shot him. Boyle was standing at the corner of Twenty-seventh street and Seventh avenue when he was shot. Some time before that Boyle had informed the District Attorney's office of the circumstances of the robbing of John Pritchett, an Alabama farmer, n the Tenderloin, and his story involved the police. tective Sergeant John J. Fogarty, who

District Attorney Jerome was very much interested when he heard of the shooting and Mr. Jerome will probably question Devoe to-day to find out what led to it.

TRIUMPH FOR "STANDPATTERS." Secretary Shaw's Impression of the Iowa

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13 .- Secretary Shaw, who returned to Washington to-day, declined to discuss the stirring scenes in the Iowa State convention, where mention, of his name was received with disapproval by some of the Cummins followers. The Secretary intimated that the incident had been exaggerated, and was nothing more than might have been expected where feeling might have been expected where feeling ran so high.

The Secretary's friends here understand that he is very much pleased over the platform adopted, which he regards as a trimph for the "standpatters." He found awaiting him on his return to-day numerous letters from influential Iowa Republicans praising him for the part he took in the campaign. He will remain in Washington until September, when he will go into the campaign.

An August Sale of USED PIANOS

Taken in Exchange for Our New Instruments

Pianos which lack the blush of newness, but which present tone-qualities of a far higher order than can be secured in new instruments for anything like the prices for which these are offered. In fact, some are so new that even people willing to pay for sentiment can find no fault with them. Others, which show signs of use, will save a large sum for parents who desire pure musical tone, and yet hesitate to give an elegant new piano to children to practice on.

Here are splendid pianos for music teachers—superb "Grands" at the cost of cheap uprights -pianos for hotels, boarding houses, clubs.

There are also Piano Players, Player Pianos, Symphony Organs, and a group of speciallypriced Combinations of Pianos with Piano Players.

Every instrument has been thoroughly gone over and put in best possible condition by our expert repairmen.

All are marked at lowest possible midsummer prices, and may be secured for a small cash payment and easy monthly sums afterward.
